CESR Issues Consultation on Key Investor Information Disclosures for UCITS

[23672]

July 31, 2009

TO: INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS ADVISORY COMMITTEE No. 11-09    RE: CESR ISSUES CONSULTATION ON KEY INVESTOR INFORMATION DISCLOSURES FOR UCITS

The Committee of European Securities Regulators (“CESR”) recently published for consultation its draft advice to the European Commission on the format and content of key investor information disclosures for UCITS (the “KID”). [\[1\]](#) Comments on the draft advice are due by September 10, 2009.

The KID, which aims to increase investor protection and convergence across Europe, will replace the current Simplified Prospectus. It will be a short, pre-contractual disclosure document containing only the key information need to make an investment decision. CESR’s consultation sets out a number of proposals regarding the KID’s format and presentation, the description of the objectives and investment policy, disclosure of risk and reward, disclosure of charges, and the presentation of past performance.
