March 15, 1993 TO: INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE NO. 5-93 RE: SEC INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR SECURITIES MARKET DEVELOPMENT

On April 26 - May 7, 1993 the Securities and Exchange Commission will host its third annual International Institute for Securities Market Development. The conference provides a program of lectures, seminars and workshops on the development and oversight of securities markets for regulatory officials from a number of countries with new and emerging securities markets. In connection with the conference, the SEC is seeking to arrange internships during the week of May 10 for interested delegates. At least sixteen delegates from various emerging markets have expressed an interest in an internship with a mutual fund group. Anyone interested in hosting an intern for part or all of the week of May 10 should contact William Atkinson of the SEC's Office of Economic Analysis at (202) 272-7360. We will keep you informed of developments. Angela C. Goelzer Associate Counsel - International
