THE ICI'S RESEARCH PROJECT AGENDA FOR 1991

March 16, 1990 TO: MARKETING COMMITTEE NO. 7-90 FROM: TOM MACK, RESEARCH COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN RE: THE ICI'S RESEARCH PROJECT AGENDA FOR 1991

@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@ Each year the ICI's Research Committee develops a number of possible research projects of interest to ICI members. This process is about to begin for the 1991 fiscal year and I wanted to both bring you up-to-date on how the process works and solicit your thoughts on research proposals which might be considered for inclusion in the agenda. The process to develop research projects includes an important new step this year. Here is the current plan: New this year, we have established a subcommittee to collect and screen project ideas prior to discussion by the full Research Committee. Given the size of the full committee (52 members) and the number of possible projects, we think this will be an important improvement in the efficiency of the selection process. The subcommittee was selected to represent the major types of member organizations, methods of distribution and so forth. This group will meet at ICI on April 24, 1990 with the objective of producing a short list (say 6-10) of the most promising projects.
Research Committee members will review this list of projects prior to the June 6th Committee meeting, where discussions will take place. Revised project descriptions will be sent to each Research Committee member for preference ranking of projects. The results will be tabulated and the resulting list will guide the ICI in establishing research priorities in the ICI's budget process for next year. The projects which are funded will be presented at the full Research Committee's October meeting, and small groups of members will be recruited to work with ICI staff on each project. We are anxious to identify your ideas on important topics for research projects prior to the subcommittee's meeting on April 24, 1990. Please contact any of the subcommittee members listed below with your thoughts.
