1990 SURVEYS OF STATE INCOME TAXATION

December 13, 1990 TO: PENSION COMMITTEE NO. 30-90 RE: 1990 SURVEYS OF STATE INCOME TAXATION _____ As you know, the Institute surveys the states and the district of Columbia annually on a variety of tax issues. Attached are four updated surveys relating to: (1) state income taxation of dividends paid by regulated investment companies that are derived from interest on federal obligations; (2) state taxation of state and local obligations; (3) state taxation of long-term capital gain distributions made by regulated investment companies to individual shareholders; and (4) deductibility under state laws of contributions to certain qualified retirement plans. (The Institute is also preparing a survey of state income tax withholding requirements on pension and IRA distributions.) A few jurisdictions, including Massachusetts and West Virginia, either provided no response to our survey or provided only a partial response. In these cases, we relied upon prior years' responses (where appropriate) or indicated no response. While we believe that the information in these surveys is otherwise complete, shareholders should consult their own tax advisors for specific guidance. If you have any questions regarding the survey, please call Keith Lawson at 202/955-3585 or David Mangefrida at 202/955-3521. W. Richard Mason Assistant General Counsel
