The Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") has updated its list¹ of persons and entities, identified as "Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons," whose funds, according to OFAC regulations, are required to be blocked by U.S. financial institutions, including investment companies. The list was most recently updated in December, 1997, when OFAC added the names of thirty foreign terrorist organizations and removed the name of one individual previously identified as a specially designated national, and in September, 1997, when OFAC added the name of one blocked person and one blocked entity and removed the names of two individuals previously identified as specially designated narcotics traffickers. Copies of the December and September updates are attached.² Barry E. Simmons Assistant Counsel Attachments
