More Attention for ICI's Strong Economic Data and Research

The January 16, 2015, edition of Focus on Funds features ICI President and CEO Paul Schott Stevens in a recent interview with CEO Update. Stevens highlights how the Institute's expert research and analysis benefit funds and their investors.

Transcript

Stephanie Ortbals-Tibbs, ICI Director, Media Relations: Welcome to Focus on Funds, the Investment Company Institute's weekly roundup of industry news, ICI activities, and research findings.

ICI's reputation for research and analysis has caught the attention of a national communique for corporate and association leaders. CEO Update recently asked Institute President and CEO Paul Schott Stevens to explain ICI's commitment to economic data collection and analysis, and the advantages it offers in the dialogue with regulators.

Paul Schott Stevens, ICI President and CEO: I would say we do two things. We bring information to the table and we provide an informed industry perspective, and the information is really the bedrock of it all. So, when I go into a congressional hearing, if I've got command of the facts that the other witnesses or the committee does not have, I am in a much more advantageous place to engage in the dialogue.

Ortbals-Tibbs: The full interview is accessible via a link from ICI's website.

That's this week in funds. See you next week.
