2015 Global Retirement Savings Summit Highlights (video)

2015 ICI Global Retirement Savings Summit

Japanese and International Experiences

Pension experts gathered in Tokyo on 23 April 2015, for the 2015 Global Retirement Savings Summit to examine how private pensions, including defined contribution (DC) systems, can help people save for retirement.

Japan, like other countries in the developed world, faces a number of challenges: a rapidly aging population, a relatively low birth rate, and uneven economic growth. Pension reform is an important and urgent issue not only for Japan but for the region, which made Tokyo the ideal place to hold a summit on Japan's—and other countries'—experiences with creating a successful retirement system.

During the summit, Japanese experts discussed their experience and exchanged knowledge with US and UK pension experts about DC systems.

Below are video testimonials from some of the keynote speakers and panellists who attended the event. For information about previous pension events, please visit our Global Retirement Savings Conferences page.
