Closed-End Funds: Board Oversight and Recent Developments

Closed-end funds have increasingly become the targets of activist investors who seek to gain controlling interests in the funds. This webinar will provide an update on litigation involving closed-end fund activist investors, as well as an overview of statutory provisions implicating shareholder voting rights. Panelists will discuss what closed-end fund directors should consider in their oversight role.

As always, you may submit questions before and during the webinar. Register today to join the discussion and learn more about this important topic.
