ICI Webinar: Financial Innovation Series: Blockchain and Digital Assets Archive Recording

Financial technology continues to change the way our industry operates, and its essential that ICI members stay up-to-date on the latest trends.

As ICI prepares to launch our new Financial Innovation Working Group, we are excited to kick off the first in a planned series of webinars designed to bring technology and innovation topics to our members. Join us as we host Tim Spangler, Partner at Dechert, for a presentation on the current state of blockchain and digital assets in investment management, and what regulatory and policy challenges lie ahead in the new year and beyond.

This event will take place over two days, with an hour-long webinar on January 17 and 18.
